A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION

A procession of the various participants begins and ends our formal commencement ceremony. Individuals are arranged to reflect the order of academic rank in the hierarchy of the traditional European university.

At SNHU, the Mace Bearer leads the procession. He or she is followed by the Faculty Marshals, the Platform Party, and then the Faculty of the schools arranged in order of seniority, beginning with the senior faculty. The procession is concluded by the degree candidates. They enter in groups representing their schools/units, led by a gonfalon (flag) and walking in rank.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The mace was first used as a weapon. The word comes from the Latin 'mateola,' meaning mallet or staff. It consisted of a long club with a ball of steel or brass at one end. As newer weapons came into use, the mace lost its prime purpose as an instrument of war; however, it had become a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe with roots in the Middle Ages adopted maces as symbols of authority and unity. Since then, other institutions of higher learning have come to use the mace in their ceremonies.

Southern New Hampshire University commissioned David Elwell, a New Hampshire silversmith, to create a mace to commemorate the university's 50th anniversary commencement. This mace is made of brass, aluminum, copper, and bronze, with a staff of ebony and African padauk.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion, worn by the president with academic regalia, is a symbolic representation of the authority and responsibility vested by the university in the president. It is a symbol of office that dates from medieval times and is worn by the president at all ceremonial occasions.

The Presidential Medallion is a permanent possession of the university and is presented to successive presidents at their inaugurations by the chairman of the Board of Trustees. The chain and medallion are fabricated from sterling silver. The university emblem, in relief, is the central design on the medallion. It is surrounded by a border of entwined wires, similar in texture to the chain links, and finished with a square raised edge. The heavy, twisted links of the chain bear four oval plates on each side. The background of the entire piece is oxidized to highlight the relief design and textures. The names of those who have held the office are engraved on the reverse side of the medallion.

The Presidential Medallion was designed and fabricated in 1987 by award-winning New Hampshire metalsmith Jacquelyn Ferrency of Milford.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic costume worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gowns served to set students apart from their fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between ‘town and gown.’

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes would be black; bachelor’s gowns would have long, pointed sleeves; master’s gowns would have long, closed sleeves with slits for the arms at the elbows; and doctor’s gowns would have very full, bell-shaped sleeves, each with three velvet bands matching the velvet facing of the gown opening.

The length of hoods varies with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by the colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Students who have studied abroad for one or more semesters will be wearing a sash with the colors of the flag of the country where they studied. The sashes are issued to signify the university’s commitment to provide students with opportunities for acquiring international and cross-cultural experience.

The colors for academic fields established by the American Council on Education include:

Agriculture	maize
Arts, Letters and Humanities	white
Business, Commerce and Accounting	light brown
Dentistry	lilac
Economics	copper
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Fine Arts	brown
Forestry	russet
Journalism	crimson
Law	purple
Library Science	lemon
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Oratory	silver gray
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Physical Education	sage green
Public Administration	peacock blue
Science	golden yellow
Social Work	citron
Theology	scarlet
Veterinary Science	gray

(Caps and gowns representing degrees from foreign universities may be quite different from those described. The most obvious difference may be in the cap, which is often a soft, round hat of the style worn by medieval scholars.)

VIRGINIA PRESCOTTHonorary Doctorate of Arts*

Virginia Prescott is the Gracie Award-winning host of Word of Mouth and the Civics 101 and 10-Minute Writers Workshop Podcasts from New Hampshire Public Radio (NHPR). Before returning to her home state of New Hampshire, Virginia was a producer and editor for NPR's On Point and Here & Now programs, and a director at WNYC in New York. Throughout her career, she's trained journalists and helped develop independent community radio in post-conflict zones, from the Balkans to West Africa. She was a member of the Peabody Award-Winning team at Jazz from Lincoln Center, an Edward R. Murrow Award-winner at WNYC, and a Loeb Fellow at Harvard University. She loves working in radio, but regrets that so many good outfits go unnoticed.

STUDENT SPEAKER

JACQUELINE CAPOBIANCO

Bachelor of Arts – Education

Good morning, President LeBlanc, distinguished deans, faculty, staff, the Board of Trustees, friends and family, and of course, my fellow graduates.

Over the last four years, SNHU has granted me the opportunity to find myself. Before I started college, I never thought I was smart enough, or considered “worthy” enough, to be successful. The professors here at this university have proven to me otherwise. The amount of encouragement and support that I have received, could never go unnoticed. I think I can speak for every graduate when I say that the people at this university, are here to help us and encourage us – they want to see us succeed and to flourish, as individuals. I bet that my fellow graduates here today can think of that one person that has truly changed their life, during their time at SNHU. I know that I can think of a few myself.

I am so proud to be part of this university. We are lucky enough to have a diverse community, with individuals from various parts of the world. We may not all speak the same language, or have the same beliefs, but we all came to SNHU because we wanted to better ourselves as human beings, and to create a better life for the ones that we love.

No matter what our backgrounds may be, SNHU has been a place that many of us have called home – and, more often than not, we don’t take the time to think about our commonalities. When many of us came to SNHU, we didn’t know what to expect. While, I know that I can’t speak for every graduate here, I remember going to Orientation Day, as if it were yesterday. I remember participating in the icebreakers, exchanging phone numbers, finding out who commutes, or lives on campus, and already making plans for that upcoming weekend. I had no idea what lay ahead of me over the next few years, but, I knew that I had support here, not just from the campus community, but from my friends and family. Today, we have all joined together to celebrate the completion of this journey that we started all those years ago, no matter our starting point. I know that no two of our stories are exactly alike. My story, is exactly that: my own; but, today, in just a little while, we will each cross this stage and be recognized for our achievements as individuals, and as a group.

While we may not have had the same experiences, or come from the same location, or have the same passions, we are graduating together today. Together, we made it to the finish line. Together we are Southern New Hampshire University graduates. Congratulations, again!

MARIBEL DURANHonorary Doctorate of Education*

Maribel Duran joined the Aspen Institute, after serving eight years under the Obama Administration at the U.S. Department of Education. As the longest-serving political appointee at the Department, Maribel worked to increase educational attainment and student outcomes, launched the Federal Interagency Working Group on Educational Excellence for Hispanics, and supported states and districts with policy implementation. She was also a member of the White House Council on Women and Girls Federal Taskforce, and the Department's Diversity and Inclusion Working Group. Maribel holds a bachelor's degree in English Language and Literature from Southern New Hampshire University.

STUDENT SPEAKER

DORI LONDRESMaster of Arts – Communication*

Good afternoon, President LeBlanc, distinguished faculty members, the Board of Trustees, staff, family and friends, and my fellow graduates. ...welcome to this exciting day!

Back in September of 2015, two huge, game-changing events occurred in my life.

One of them was that I returned to school, after nearly 25 years, and began working toward my master's in Communications here at SNHU.

The other was that the soundtrack to the Broadway musical Hamilton began streaming on NPR.

It may seem that these events are out of balance and unrelated, but actually, they're not. A few years before coming to SNHU, I had returned to work after more than 12 years as a stay-at-home mom. When I had left my job years before, computers were still a novelty – e-mail was new. So, it isn't surprising that when I returned, I felt a little bit lost. I never regretted my decision to put my career on hold, but I knew I had a lot of catching up to do. I also knew that I had some important choices to make: What did I want to do? And, where was I going to start?

As an undergrad, I had studied English Literature, and dreamed of writing the Great American Novel. Life got in the way a bit, as it does, and 25 years later, I had just sent one child off to college, and was preparing to do the same for my second. Suddenly, with my kids beginning their next chapter, it seemed that life had slowed down -- like the noise had been muted, and the dust had been cleared. It was during that sudden silence that I heard the voice of Eliza Hamilton.

Eliza was an ordinary woman, living in uncertain times. She did not know what her future held, but she was determined to embrace it, and to play a role in shaping it. In fact, she felt lucky just to have that chance. I was no longer sure what the rest of my story would look like. The only thing I knew for sure was that, like Eliza Hamilton, I wanted to be a part of creating the narrative.

During my time at SNHU, I have met people from all over the country, and even beyond. Despite differences in age, geography, and profession, there is one thing we all have in common: we are all reaching for something better. We are striving to be something more. Today, I would like to tell each of you the same thing that Eliza told Alexander in 1781. Let this moment be the first chapter – look at where we are! We each came to SNHU to get to work. By doing so, we have guaranteed our part in the narrative. All of us are part of this chapter, and of a bigger story that is waiting to be told.

Congratulations, again to us all!

Honorary Doctorate of Arts and Humane Letters

Beth Miller, Executive Director of the Creative Education Foundation, has worked in the nonprofit sector for 17 years. She embraces continued education, and recently completed fellowships with Third Sector New England and the UMass Boston Center for Collaborative Leadership Emerging Leaders Program. Beth has also served as a senior leader at the Boston Debate League, The Mark Twain House & Museum, and the Hartford Youth Scholars Foundation. In addition, Beth taught writing at Trinity College, her alma mater, for ten years, and was a writing fellow and lecturer at Quinnipiac University. She was the first woman in her family to earn both undergraduate and graduate degrees, and has a passion for educational access and attainment.

NILHARI BHANDARI

Bachelor of Arts – Mathematics

Good morning, President LeBlanc, distinguished faculty members, the Board of Trustees, staff, family and friends, and my fellow graduates.

My name is Nilhari Bhandari – a guy with a rhythmic, funny name, and a thick accent. I was born in Bhutan, and was raised and educated in a refugee camp in Nepal. Life in the refugee camp was miserable, as there was no availability of the basic fundamentals needed for living. We didn't have access to nutritious food, proper housing, running water, or quality medical care. At that time, survival was the greatest accomplishment; often people died due to uncured diseases and malnutrition. Against all odds, and with tremendous support from my family, I completed an undergraduate degree in Physics and Math from Tribhuvan University in Nepal, in 2008. Then after living in the camps for 17 years, my family got an incredible opportunity to resettle in the United States. Upon arrival to New Hampshire in 2009, I had high hopes and dreams of attending college, getting my degree, doing great things, and eventually, paving the path to a higher degree...but, life did not happen as planned.

My primary goal became focused on working multiple jobs, to provide for my family, and my dream of attending college became secondary. However, in 2015, I learned about SNHU, and I decided to enroll in classes, to pursue my long-deferred dream. I decided to attend evening and weekends classes on campus, and take other classes online. Over the past year, I spent many evenings and weekends in the library; coffee became my best friend. I missed trips to the beach with my daughters, and playing with them in the park; I left them alone during weekends, in order to complete my assignments, and I missed them every second. I want to thank them, and my family for their tremendous support, and want to let my daughters know that their dad's ready for some beach time this summer! On those long days in the library, the online Writing Center, Smart Thinking Tutorial, and tutoring services offered on campus were my lifesaver....

Like everyone graduating today, I pursued my degree so that I could create a career path for myself, and unlock my potential. I wanted to increase my credibility in society, so that I could articulate and share my ideas with a larger audience, and make a difference.

I would like to conclude my speech by saying this – if a refugee, from a third world country, can come to the US, learn a new language and new culture, work hard, provide for his family, and make contributions to the community, then this group of graduates has unlimited potential. We can continue to make a difference in the world by pursuing our passions through innovation, entrepreneurship, hard work, risk taking, and living a life of purpose.

Congratulations to us all!

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ZIA HAIDER RAHMAN

Honorary Doctorate of Arts and Humane Letters

Zia Haider Rahman is an award winning novelist who was born in rural Bangladesh, raised in London, and educated in England, Germany, and the United States. He has lived in several countries, and has worked as an investment banker, a corporate lawyer, and international human rights lawyer. His first novel, In the Light of What We Know, was first published by Farrar, Straus & Giroux in 2014 to international critical acclaim, and won the James Tait Black Memorial Prize, Britain's oldest literary award.

KURTIS MICHAEL PALERMO

Master of Science – Organizational Leadership

Good afternoon, President LeBlanc, distinguished faculty members, the Board of Trustees, staff, family and friends, and my fellow graduates.

When I graduated high school, I lacked the enthusiasm for pursuing higher education. Today, eleven years later, I'm humbled to accept my master's degree.

During my undergraduate years, and more recently, I've felt motivated to find my purpose; to follow the path that just might lead me to something great.

Growing up, there was little emphasis on the importance of getting an education. I am a first-generation college student. This term, while loosely defined, consists of a group of individuals who may be less likely to attend, or graduate from college, because of the gap in access and understanding of the processes needed to get into college. As a first-generation college student, my outlook on the importance of education was not founded on lessons from my parents, but rather stemmed from a desire to be my best self, and to achieve more. This mindset and dedication has contributed to my success, and in 2014, led me here to SNHU, one of the most innovative universities in the country. At SNHU, I was presented with an opportunity to strive for more, and to find my purpose.

Starting on the day that I enrolled here, I felt like I was truly part of something bigger than myself—a community of esteemed professors, advisors, and students who are dedicated to making the world a better place. I have had countless opportunities to work with my fellow students from around the world, and our community continues to grow; and whether we are current students or returning alumnae, we are Penmen, forever.

Now, I will attempt to offer a bit of wisdom...

In my personal and professional life, I have experienced significant change. The first step in the stages of change is pre-contemplation, during which a person is unaware or unwilling to recognize the necessity for change. We find ourselves stuck here all too often. I urge each of you graduating today to be conscious of this, and to push yourselves toward the next step – whatever it may be. It's recognizing the need for change, and making plans to move toward action, that allows us to fully enjoy the benefits that change can bring. This is where you will find innovation, collaborative thinking, and the kind of decision-making that can change the world.

Following a path to college and graduate school, when I was not brought up with any expectation that I could achieve these steps, has required me to make some difficult changes; but, each one has been worthwhile.

So, I want to end by saying, Congratulations, again. Today we celebrate our accomplishments; but, tomorrow, we'll wake up ready to move forward, change, and use the greatness we have found within ourselves, to inspire others, and make a difference. Thank You.

THE LOEFFLER PRIZE

The Loeffler Prize is awarded to individuals who have extended themselves to help others in ways often extraordinary, but frequently unnoticed or unreported. This award recognizes those who have unselfishly and generously contributed their time and talents for the enrichment of others and the betterment of their community. They set an example for the spirit of generosity, everyday contributions, sometime heroism, and perseverance. The Loeffler Prize carries a $2,000 gift to be made in the winner's name to a non-profit of his or her choice.

The Loeffler Prize is named for Frederic "Rick" A. Loeffler, a member of the SNHU community, who embodies the spirit of this award. A long-time member of the SNHU Board of Trustees and a local business person, Rick is a champion of his community and the prize commemorates his commitment to make Manchester and New Hampshire a better place for all.

The 2017 winners are:

- Nick Willard, Chief, Manchester Police
- Maureen A. Beauregard, President and Founder, Families in Transition
- Richard Alvarez, Retired Officer, United States Marine Corps
- Brendan McCafferty, Principal, Hillside Middle School, Manchester

THE EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD

Southern New Hampshire University traditionally has recognized outstanding teaching in its many degree programs. Following an extensive selection process, a full-time faculty member and an adjunct faculty member are honored with the annual Excellence in Teaching Award, which is announced during the May commencement ceremony. The process is student-driven with all nominations coming from the student body. A committee of faculty, administrators, and students used the nomination information and the following criteria to select the winners:

- Effectiveness as a classroom teacher.
- Commitment to advising and/or tutoring students beyond what might be expected.
- Professional development to remain current in the discipline and teaching.
- Contributions toward building the reputation or image of the university.
- General attitude toward students that demonstrates a concern for their welfare.

The finalists for the 2017 Excellence in Teaching Award from University College (UC) undergraduate, full-time faculty are:

- Edward Brilliant, Game Artist and Instructor of Communications and Media Arts
- David Cox, Associate Professor of Mathematics
- Adam Gilbert, Assistant Professor of Mathematics
- Diane HARRISES, Assistant Professor of Early Childhood and Special Education
- Sara Howe, Assistant Professor of English
- Kostas Karadakis, Assistant Professor of Sport Management
- Robert MacAuslan, Assistant Professor of Sociology
- Shahriar Movafaghi, Professor of Computer Information Technology
- Daniel Murphy, Assistant Professor of Accounting

THE EXCELLENCE IN ADVISING AWARD

In order to recognize and reward the significant impact that advising has on our students' success, this year University College is bestowing an "Excellence in Advising" award to one deserving UC professional advisor and one deserving UC faculty advisor. The process is student-driven, with all nominations coming from the student body. A committee of faculty, administrators, and students used the nomination information and the following criteria to select the winners:

- Understands and effectively communicates the curriculum, graduation requirements, and university policies and procedures.
- Encourages and guides students as they define and develop realistic academic goals.
- Encourages and supports students as they gain the skills to develop clear and attainable educational plans.
- Encourages students to use appropriate resources and services available to them as SNHU students.
- Guides students to understand the purpose of higher education and its effects on their lives.
- Assists students in gaining decision making skills and assuming responsibility for their educational success.
- Monitors and accurately documents student progress toward meeting individual goals.
- Is accessible to students during office hours or by appointment, and responds in a timely manner when communicating with students by telephone or email.
- Maintains confidentiality.

The finalists for the 2017 Excellence in Advising Award from University College (UC) undergraduate full-time faculty are:

- Andrea Bard, Assistant Professor of Communications and Media Arts
- Joshua Harwood, Lecturer in Organizational Leadership
- David Humphreys, Instructor of Communications
- Justina Oliveira, Assistant Professor of Psychology

The finalists for the 2017 Excellence in Advising Award from University College (UC) undergraduate professional advisors are:

ARTS AND SCIENCES

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The mission of the School of Arts and Sciences is to educate students to live and work well and to be actively engaged in carrying out civic responsibilities. By connecting the humanities, sciences, fine arts, mathematics, technology, and social inquiry, students prepare for a community role that is as central to individual success as it is to a sustainable society. The School of Arts and Sciences delivers the General Education curriculum for all students in University College. Students of Arts and Sciences can pursue 18 different majors, 10 concentrations, and a wide array of minors. The arts and sciences curriculum serves as a gateway to many careers that already exist and prepares students for careers to come. Programs in the arts and sciences encourage critical thinking, empower students to try the new and dare the different, and help us understand the deepest forms of human expression. A creative mind is the highest recommendation for success in managing a complex world and living effectively in it.

COLLEGE OF ONLINE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION ARTS AND SCIENCES DEPARTMENT

The College of Online and Continuing Education's department of arts and sciences mission is to create the best online student learning experience in the world and to promote the values achieved by obtaining a Liberal Arts education. The arts and sciences encompasses many diverse programs with the common goal of preparing students for both academic advancement and professional opportunities in their chosen career field. Our programs engage students' diverse learning styles through the inclusion of multimedia learning resources and the implementation of authentic technology tools and environments that both adhere to our rigorous learning outcomes and are authentic to the relevant field of professional practice. We pride ourselves on providing our students with a transformative educational experience and with never giving up on a student who is putting forth the effort to achieve his or her academic goals.

BUSINESS

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

The School of Business at Southern New Hampshire University prepares students for successful careers through a commitment to exceptional teaching of business fundamentals, a relentless focus on the competencies and workplace skills that distinguish high performers in business, and partnerships with businesses and organizations that provide our students with workplace experience and an understanding of today's business environments. The basic knowledge in accounting, economics, finance, marketing, management, leadership, and operations that every business student must attain is no longer sufficient to succeed. Students today need to be adaptable to succeed in a workplace where jobs that have never existed before are being created daily as new technologies provide opportunities and challenges. They need to understand the implications of a global marketplace that is fully connected and interdependent. And they need to approach every job as an entrepreneur, finding new and better ways of doing things. We pride ourselves on our exceptional faculty that provides a broad, relevant business education designed to launch our students on successful careers and lives.

COLLEGE OF ONLINE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

The mission of the College of Online and Continuing Education's business programs is to create the best online student learning experience in the world and to develop professionals who achieve success personally, in their careers and for society as whole. The department's many diverse programs all prepare students for both academic and professional advancement opportunities in their chosen fields and disciplines. Our programs employ rigorous learning outcomes, real world scenarios, and the latest technologies relevant to the field of professional practice. We pride ourselves on providing our students with a transformative educational experience and with never giving up on a student who is putting forth the effort to achieve his or her academic goals

COLLEGE FOR AMERICA

College for America at Southern New Hampshire University is an accredited, non-profit college that helps employers upskill their workforce through competency-based associate's and bachelor's degrees—ones that are extraordinarily low cost, built for working adults, and uniquely applicable in the workplace. Our college is dedicated to better connecting workforce research, higher education, and labor market needs.

We partner with employers nationwide to offer their employees rigorous degrees that are earned by completing real-world projects and goals—instead of traditional lectures and credit hours. These projects are designed to be immediately applicable in the workplace, so employers see results on day one. They are self-scheduled and self-paced, so students can fit school in around jobs and family responsibilities.

EDUCATION

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The School of Education is the newest school on the Southern New Hampshire campus. Founded in 2004, the School provides undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs to more than 700 students each year. The School of Education is committed to creating a better tomorrow by preparing students to be knowledgeable, reflective leaders, responsive to the needs of a diverse society.

The School of Education is strongly focused on teaching. Our faculty takes great pride in working closely with our students in a rigorous, practitioner-based program that leads to teacher certification. We have built strong partnerships with schools throughout the region that are committed to providing extensive clinical experiences in classrooms for our students as early as freshman year. Our recently redesigned undergraduate teacher education program will allow our teacher education candidates to spend their entire senior year in a school placement.

NURSING AND HEALTH PROFESSIONS

COLLEGE OF ONLINE AND CONTINUING EDUCATION NURSING AND HEALTH PROFESSIONS

The Nursing and Health Professions department provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate health profession education with distinction in scholarship, service, and practice for health professionals seeking to maximize their personal and professional potential. This mission is fulfilled through innovative programs and responsive to the needs of adult learners in an online environment. Graduates are prepared to apply theory-guided, culturally competent, evidence-based professional practices to improve the well-being of diverse populations in varied healthcare settings nationally and internationally.

Congratulations to our newest graduates!

Be proud of your accomplishments and the determination you put forth to be here today. You're joining the ranks of more than 80,000 SNHU alumni worldwide, a diverse and accomplished network of professionals, community leaders, and change makers.

Remember that your alma mater is here for you after you graduate, with a multitude of ways to stay connected to the SNHU community, from volunteering as a career coach to building your regional SNHU network to joining your first Homecoming festivities October 13-15, 2017.

Visit alumni.snhu.edu to update your alumni profile, find an event near you, access benefits and resources, and find meaningful ways to continue your journey with SNHU.

Congratulations again, and welcome to the SNHU Alumni Association!
