MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Paul LeBlanc
*University President and CEO
Southern New Hampshire University*

Dear graduates, family, and friends,

We are excited to mark another Southern New Hampshire University Spring Commencement!

We are recognizing over 17,000 graduates this Spring. Whether you don your regalia at the SNHU Arena in New Hampshire, hold celebrations at home with family and friends, or if obligations prevent you from marking the occasion, I hope you take a moment to reflect on what you have achieved. It took a great deal of determination and perseverance to earn your college degree and you should be immensely proud of yourself. I hope you know how proud we are of you, too.

Congratulations!

To the families and friends celebrating our graduates; we say thank you. No one gets to the finish line alone. Your encouragement and support made this accomplishment possible, and your graduate is fortunate to have you rooting for them.

Enjoy the celebration, and congratulations to the Class of 2023!

A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION

A procession of the various participants begins and ends our formal commencement ceremony. Individuals are arranged to reflect the order of academic rank in the hierarchy of the traditional European university.

At SNHU, the Mace Bearer leads the procession. He or she is followed by the Faculty Marshals, the Platform Party, and then the Faculty of the schools arranged in order of seniority, beginning with the senior faculty. The procession is concluded by the degree candidates. They enter in groups representing their schools/units, led by a gonfalon (flag) and walking in rank.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The mace was first used as a weapon. The word comes from the Latin 'mateola,' meaning mallet or staff. It consisted of a long club with a ball of steel or brass at one end. As newer weapons came into use, the mace lost its prime purpose as an instrument of war; however, it had become a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe with roots in the Middle Ages adopted maces as symbols of authority and unity. Since then, other institutions of higher learning have come to use the mace in their ceremonies.

Southern New Hampshire University commissioned David Elwell, a New Hampshire silversmith, to create a mace to commemorate the university's 50th anniversary commencement. This mace is made of brass, aluminum, copper, and bronze, with a staff of ebony and African padauk.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion, worn by the president with academic regalia, is a symbolic representation of the authority and responsibility vested by the university in the president. It is a symbol of office that dates from medieval times and is worn by the president at all ceremonial occasions.

The Presidential Medallion is a permanent possession of the university and is presented to successive presidents at their inaugurations by the chairman of the Board of Trustees. The chain and medallion are fabricated from sterling silver. The university emblem, in relief, is the central design on the medallion. It is surrounded by a border of entwined wires, similar in texture to the chain links, and finished with a square raised edge. The heavy, twisted links of the chain bear four oval plates on each side. The background of the entire piece is oxidized to highlight the relief design and textures. The names of those who have held the office are engraved on the reverse side of the medallion.

The Presidential Medallion was designed and fabricated in 1987 by award-winning New Hampshire metalsmith Jacquelyn Ferency of Milford.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic costume worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gowns served to set students apart from their fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between ‘town and gown.’

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes would be black; bachelor’s gowns would have long, pointed sleeves; master’s gowns would have long, closed sleeves with slits for the arms at the elbows; and doctor’s gowns would have very full, bell-shaped sleeves, each with three velvet bands matching the velvet facing of the gown opening.

The length of hoods varies with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by the colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Students who have studied abroad for one or more semesters will be wearing a sash with the colors of the flag of the country where they studied. The sashes are issued to signify the university’s commitment to provide students with opportunities for acquiring international and cross-cultural experience.

Undergraduate learners that have received ceremonial and/or Latin honors will be wearing a gold cord.

Graduates that are serving in the military or are veterans will be wearing red, white and blue woven cords in recognition and appreciation of their service.

Participants in campus Undergraduate Research Day will be wearing a light blue cord.

Graduates that have provided academic support as peer educators will be wearing a royal blue cord.

Many cords are representative of membership in a recognized National Honor Society; a full list is found on subsequent pages.

The colors for academic fields established by the American Council on Education include:

Agriculture	maize
Arts, Letters and Humanities	white
Business, Commerce and Accounting	drab
Dentistry	lilac
Economics	copper
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Fine Arts	brown
Forestry	russet
Journalism	crimson
Law	purple
Library Science	lemon
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Oratory	silver gray
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Physical Education	sage green
Public Administration	peacock blue
Science	golden
Social Work	yellow
Theology	citron
Theology	scarlet
Veterinary Science	gray

(Caps and gowns representing degrees from foreign universities may be quite different from those described. The most obvious difference may be in the cap, which is often a soft, round hat of the style worn by medieval scholars.)

RECESSIONAL

STUDENT SPEAKER

TAYLOR ANN POSIK

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Greetings President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, staff, family, friends, and fellow graduates,

We are here today for one reason: to celebrate. After the time we put into earning our degrees, we are finally turning the page to the next chapter of our lives.

The road we paved throughout our journeys was not without bumps and detours. From going remote through the Spring of 2021, to having to readjust to campus life, this class has proven to be adaptable and resilient.

Along the way, we have formed a community of support, where peers boost each other up and cheer each other on. As a class, we found the definition of SNHU. SNHU is how we talked about Among Us during remote classes. SNHU is how we sang together at karaoke night in The Last Chapter Pub. SNHU is how we gathered to win prizes at CAPE's Big Money Bingo. From the biggest successes to the littlest moments, SNHU is about adding to the tapestry of memories to be retold for years to come.

It was not just in where we experienced school, but how we endured throughout our time here. While we had many accomplishments, we should also remember the way we bounced back from our setbacks.

I stand before you today with nerves, nerves that arise from the need for perfection. We all strive for it, because we believe we can't be anything less. However, I came to learn in life that while we may make mistakes, all that matters is how we rise up. It's true what they say; it's the journey that shapes how we experience the destination.

Now a tribute to one of my favorite poets:

Robert Frost once said, "I took the one less traveled by, and that has made all the difference." Standing out and following my own path was something I avoided prior to SNHU. When I got here, I threw that mentality out the window because everyone came here for one reason: to further ourselves. To branch out and go beyond what we are. I was able to find my way along the journey because I stopped following the crowd. In life, we need only the courage to be different in order to succeed, which is what SNHU gave me.

We all have different destinations and ways of getting there; SNHU happened to be the one stop along the way that we all agreed on. Here, our endeavors for our futures are supported.

My message to the graduating class of 2023: don't hold yourself back. Don't turn around at the first obstacle you face. Follow that path that no one dared go down. It wasn't traveled because that is your path, and your path only, to tread. In the long run, it will make a difference.

Thank you, and congratulations to the class of 2023.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

School Of Business

The School of Business at Southern New Hampshire University prepares students for successful careers through a commitment to exceptional teaching of business fundamentals, a relentless focus on the competencies and workplace skills that distinguish high performers in business, and partnerships with businesses and organizations that provide our students with workplace experience and an understanding of today's business environments. The basic knowledge in accounting, economics, finance, marketing, management, leadership, and operations that every business student must attain is no longer sufficient to succeed.

Students today need to be adaptable to succeed in a workplace where jobs that have never existed before are being created daily as new technologies provide opportunities and challenges. They need to understand the implications of a global marketplace that is fully connected and interdependent. And they need to approach every job as an entrepreneur, finding new and better ways of doing things. We pride ourselves on our exceptional faculty that provides a broad, relevant business education designed to launch our students on successful careers and lives.

MELODY YOUNG

Master of Business Administration

Good afternoon, President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, staff, family, friends, those who believed in us, and of course, the graduating class of 2023!

Today is the day to celebrate our educational wins together, and I take great pride and honor in sharing my truth.

I am a product of Jamaica. Most of you would relate Jamaica to Bob Marley, Usain Bolt, music, reggae, beautiful beaches, and yes! jerk chicken. Growing up, my experience was very far from the sun, sand, and sea. There were moments when I would study in the bathroom because of the constant shootings that occurred or even the fear of stray bullets coming through the windows. Music would be played outside the gate using massive boom boxes at the highest decibel every night. As most of you would say, “Yes, the struggle was real!”.

Although my family was small, one thing my parents instilled in me was to remember that “while it’s important to remember where you are coming from, always work towards where you want to be.”

Moving to NYC was nothing near the movie “Coming to America,” especially since I was a single parent with a 3-year-old son. My support system wasn’t as concrete as I had back home, but I was determined to make the best use of attaining a higher education to unlock opportunities.

Pursuing my Masters was not an easy road, especially since I hadn’t returned to school in a decade, coupled with a myriad of other issues, but I had to motivate myself.

I’m confident your journey looked different from mine, but I am sure that you missed out on many life moments, and you made a lot of sacrifices, and that’s why we are here, irrespective of the odds!

My fellow graduates, right now, diversity, inclusion, and belonging are very evident and alive. We have graduates from all walks of life, households, countries, faiths, beliefs, values, and opinions. The common thread that brings us together is success, and a strong determination to finish the race that we started. Some starting points happened at different timelines, but it’s not how you started but how you ended.

While we just crossed this finish line, I cannot urge you enough to exercise self-care. Based on the wealth of knowledge, experiences, and interactions you have, use it to advance your families, friends, communities, workplaces, the country, the world, and of course, yourself.

Finally, keep moving forward in your journey, and remember to pay it forward and pull someone up as you climb the ladder of success. Again, congratulations to each of you in your future endeavors. You are equipped with the knowledge, skills, and tools to face whatever tomorrow brings!

Graduates — we made it!

Greetings President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, distinguished Deans, staff, faculty, my fellow graduates, and all our beloved friends and family in the audience,

It is an honor and privilege to be standing here before you today.

My motto when I began my journey to become a software engineer was to “Finish Strong!” It was a journey I began almost 20 years ago, but because of many financial and personal hardships, for a long time my dream was deferred.

Growing up, I was always told that I had potential. I was a bright young student who always got straight A’s all throughout primary school, and it seemed like everything was heading in the right direction as I gave the opening speech at my junior high graduation, an excited teenager ready to take on the next challenge. Little did I know that it would be the last graduation ceremony I would attend until today.

Regrettably, halfway through my high school years, I veered off the straight path and struggled to finish high school, barely graduating with a 2.0 GPA, and had to pick up my diploma six months after all my classmates had already walked the stage that summer.

Despite many challenges, I still believed I had potential, so I signed up for community college hoping to still see it realized. Sadly, I dropped out a year later, mostly due to financial hardships. I went on to work minimum wage jobs, and for the next twenty years, that word, “Potential,” became a smoldering wick within my soul longing to be reignited.

How many of you like me, almost didn’t finish high school, or perhaps, tried college once and for whatever reason dropped out at an early stage? But yet, still believed that you could accomplish more, if you were just given another chance?

In his famous poem titled, “Harlem,” renowned American poet Langston Hughes asks the question, “What happens to a dream deferred?” For me, it sagged like a heavy load, and in the midst of a global pandemic, when it seemed like the world stood still for months, I could no longer restrain my dream and my potential within.

You see, the very definition of “potential” states that it is something that can develop, and can be actualized, and you are all living proof of that today. Against all hope, you chose to hope, and against all odds, you were determined to finish what you started, as was I.

Class of 2023, congratulations on achieving this huge milestone. And now, our journey continues, but this time from a whole new realm of possibilities, a new level of success and expertise, where the world will recognize our accreditation and will need our ideas. And my advice to you is the same thing I told myself when I began; To finish strong. Because this is only one leg of the journey, the best is yet to come.

SONNECIA WILLIAMS

Bachelor of Arts, Summa Cum Laude

Greetings to President LeBlanc, all the University administrators and professors, family and friends, but most importantly and the reason we are all here today...hello to my fellow SNHU graduates!

I am overwhelmed with endless emotions standing here. This SNHU experience has impacted my life in ways I'd never imagined. While here, the advisors and professors' support were unmatched, so to you I say, "thank you" from us all.

Like me, I am confident you are also more than excited to finally experience this moment for yourself. I have been chasing this degree for 20 years and yet like times before, today almost didn't happen. Who could've imagined that after deciding to give this "school thing" (yes, I'd deemed it "school thing" because it had turned into something I just couldn't conquer) one last try that I would lose my "person." I lost my sister; friend, at times second mom, right at the beginning of my "one last try."

As I grieved and quickly slipped into a horrible depression, I pushed. I didn't just want to throw in the towel, I wanted to throw it out. Pushing past quitting, the "what's the point?" insecurities, disappointment, and the "does it really matter anymore?" I took a step forward.

As I navigated through mental health challenges Thursday approached, so I got out of bed and posted. Sunday came around and I turned in my end of week assignments. Slowly I'd completed a week, a month, the class, and kept going. I'm sure many of you had those moments — where pushing past something on Thursday or Sunday was harder some weeks than others, yet and still you kept going. Now we are here.

This confidence we've gained can never be taken away and neither can our degree. Every time I doubted myself, my advisor and professors encouraged me. Through this journey I've seen my husband, my family, Godmother, and my heartbeats (my eight- and twelve-year-old kids) be champions for me. They're both bilingual speaking straight-A students and my twelve-year-old daughter was constantly checking my grades and raving about mommy's accomplishments. Little does she know she is my greatest inspiration. As a first-generation graduate, daughter of six, and one of eleven grandchildren; generations in my family are celebrating today — this is not just for me.

In conclusion, I want to leave you with this: Never stop. In life we try different things, and it doesn't go the way we want, but guess what? This time it did! Resilience is in you to accomplish the impossible. My impossible was getting out of the bed and graduating Summa Cum Laude, and on today I have done just this. It's not about failed attempts, and disappointments today. It's this feeling. Do you feel that? Look around you, take it all in. This feeling is what you get when your "try" ends in success! Lean in and bask in this feeling. And as you leave here, let this feeling catapult you into your next adventure, and you will experience this feeling yet again.

EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARDS

Southern New Hampshire University traditionally has recognized outstanding teaching in its many degree programs. Following an extensive selection process, a full-time faculty member and an adjunct faculty member are honored with the annual “Excellence in Teaching Award.” The process is student-driven with all nominations coming from the student body. A committee of faculty, administrators, and students used the nomination information and the following criteria to select the winners:

- Effectiveness as a classroom teacher;
- Commitment to advising and/or tutoring students beyond what might be expected;
- Professional development to remain current in the discipline and teaching;
- Contributions toward building the reputation or image of the university; and
- A general attitude toward students that demonstrates a concern for their welfare.

The 2023 “Excellence in Teaching” Award for online faculty is awarded to:

Rebecca Sheffield, Ph.D., full-time faculty

David Blank, adjunct instructor

THE AWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED ONLINE TEACHING

Southern New Hampshire University recognizes the exemplary efforts of our adjunct faculty in promoting teaching and learning within its online programs. After an extensive review of student feedback and academic evaluations, nominations are submitted by Associate Deans of Faculty within their curricular units. Award recipients are selected by committee according to the following criteria:

- Demonstrate SNHU's commitment to quality instruction and an exceptional student experience;
- Support students by acknowledging their prior learning and experience, addressing concerns through care and effective communication, and exemplifying an encouraging disposition;
- Acknowledge students' prior learning and experience while engaging them proactively and consistently to foster academic growth;
- Utilize expertise in one's discipline to create connections between course content and current developments in the corresponding field, maximizing student achievement in the online learning environment.

Out of over 7,000 faculty teaching online with us this year, only one instructor from each of the curricular units is honored with this achievement.

The recipients of the 2023 Distinguished Online

Teaching Award are:

Business	Becky Dolley , MS, CPA
College for America	Kimberly Pierre , Ph.D., MPH
Counseling	Maureen O'Shea-Goss , Ph.D.
Education	Vickie McCullough , MEd
First Year Experience	Michael Lunsford , MCJ
General Education	Alice Alvarado , MEd, MA
Health Professions	William Cundiff , MBA, JD, FACHE, CMPE, CHC
Liberal Arts	Renee Martin-Kratzer , Ph.D.

EXCELLENCE IN STUDENT SUPPORT

The Excellence in Student Support Award is a new award which will be given out annually to recognize eight staff members for making an outstanding impact on the students they serve.

These SNHU staff members demonstrate a strong interest in student growth, education & unity. They serve as an advocate for student issues and show a commitment to student well-being, seeing each student as unique. Going beyond their occupational requirements — through guidance, leadership, and personal interest — they enhance the experience at SNHU. These awards are student-driven, with all nominations coming from the student body. A committee of university leadership and previous award winners used the nomination information and the following criteria to select the winners:

- High level of dedication and commitment to the student body
- Demonstrative attitude of excellence and positive spirit
- Encourages and guides students as they navigate their education and personal experience at SNHU
- Accessible and available to meet with students as needed
- Commitment to student engagement and mentoring beyond what is expected
- Maintains confidentiality

The winners of the online Spring 2023 Excellence in Student Support Award are:

VIRTUAL STUDENT SPEAKER

DEBORAH SIGNA

Bachelor of Science, Summa Cum Laude

Greetings President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, distinguished faculty, staff, family and friends,

It is a great honor to be invited to speak with you today and a great responsibility. I never imagined I would be here – proudly wearing a cap and gown — ready to accept a well-earned degree.

Thirty-five years ago, I graduated high school and took my first college class. I was working two jobs at that time and as often happens; daily responsibilities outweighed the practicality of chasing my dream of an education. Fast forward 30 years and my world was rocked when I was diagnosed with colon cancer. I recognized it was time to invest in myself and convert my dream to a reality. As an older student, I was nervous that I would feel like a fish out of water and wondered if I would be able to master the technology required for online learning.

From the first call with Jessica at Southern New Hampshire University, I knew I had found my place and that I really could make this happen! The SNHU core values of diversity, equity and inclusion ensure there is a place for everyone, while the instructors make it a point to respect and honor our differences, helping students break down the barriers and be successful.

SNHU has changed my life by providing the path I needed to achieve the lifelong goal of earning a degree. I now have the education I need to embrace a career I'm passionate about and to be financially secure. More importantly, my experience at SNHU has the power to change the lives of my children and grandchildren, and is a steppingstone to making a difference in my community.

Each of us here has taken a different journey to get to this point, and I believe the path to higher education is a personal one that has the power to transform each of us in a unique way.

So many of us have struggled to balance family, work, and school, but stayed the course, utilized the wealth of resources offered by SNHU, and now are graduating. The World Economic Forum has identified education as the key driver in sustainable development, economic growth and resilient communities. I encourage my fellow graduates to embrace this experience, take the knowledge gained back to our communities and serve as mentors to others as they embark on the journey of higher education. Each of us here are living proof that with tenacity and proper resources, dreams CAN come true!

Congratulations fellow graduates!!!

Thank you.

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

Counseling Programs

The mission of the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is to empower new generations of counselors by transforming the lives of our students, and through them, the lives of the clients and communities they will serve. To achieve this, we deliver innovative, experiential counselor education, create an inclusive environment, and nurture authentic relationships. We recognize that earning a degree in counseling is more than just acquiring a base of knowledge and theories; it is about developing an identity as a healer.

The journey from novice to expert counselor takes many years. The completion of a master's degree is just one step in that journey; yet today, the faculty and staff of the Counseling program at SNHU are proud to present these students who have, by their hard work and perseverance, demonstrated they are ready to take the next step in their journeys, well prepared to have a positive impact on the lives of others, and are grounded in ethical practice that promotes unconditional positive regard and cultural humility towards themselves and their clients.

LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAMS

Liberal Arts Programs

SNHU's Liberal Arts department embraces both passion and practicality within our many diverse undergraduate and graduate programs, such as Communication, Creative Writing, Digital Photography, English, General Studies, Graphic Design, History, and Liberal Arts. Our mission is to guide our students' exploration of the human experience to enrich their journeys as dynamic global citizens. In doing this, we foster the development of practical skills, leading to success in their chosen professional paths. We cultivate a passionate community that practices respect, collaboration, creativity, leadership, and communication.

Regardless of discipline area, a Liberal Arts education challenges students to expand their minds while encouraging empathy and self-reflection. Liberal Arts promotes objective examination of new ideas and thoughts and helps incite creativity and the development of critical problem-solving skills. Liberal Arts students sharpen their communication skills for different audiences in a variety of contexts and formats. Students learn to question assumptions in the search for truth. Emboldened by their Liberal Arts education, our students have a meaningful impact on their local and global communities, as they imagine and bring about a better future.

SOCIAL SCIENCE PROGRAMS

Social Science Programs

SNHU's Social Sciences department empowers and supports students to transform their lives and the lives of those around them through high-quality and innovative educational practices that enrich their knowledge and skills in the helping professions. Students apply their knowledge of human behavior through our programs in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Human Services, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology.

Our programs provide students with insights at the individual, societal, and global levels in order to create a richer understanding of multiple perspectives and cultures. Students also hone their skills in analysis, critical thinking, problem-solving, communication, ethical reasoning, and professionalism.
