A TRADITION STEEPED IN HISTORY

COMMENCEMENT PROCESSION

A procession of the various participants begins and ends our formal commencement ceremony. Individuals are arranged to reflect the order of academic rank in the hierarchy of the traditional European university.

At SNHU, the Mace Bearer leads the procession. He or she is followed by the Faculty Marshals, the Platform Party, and then the Faculty of the schools arranged in order of seniority, beginning with the senior faculty. The procession is concluded by the degree candidates. They enter in groups representing their schools/units, led by a gonfalon (flag) and walking in rank.

CEREMONIAL MACE

The mace was first used as a weapon. The word comes from the Latin 'mateola,' meaning mallet or staff. It consisted of a long club with a ball of steel or brass at one end. As newer weapons came into use, the mace lost its prime purpose as an instrument of war; however, it had become a symbol of authority and power. Universities in Europe with roots in the Middle Ages adopted maces as symbols of authority and unity. Since then, other institutions of higher learning have come to use the mace in their ceremonies.

Southern New Hampshire University commissioned David Elwell, a New Hampshire silversmith, to create a mace to commemorate the university's 50th anniversary commencement. This mace is made of brass, aluminum, copper, and bronze, with a staff of ebony and African padauk.

THE PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion, worn by the president with academic regalia, is a symbolic representation of the authority and responsibility vested by the university in the president. It is a symbol of office that dates from medieval times and is worn by the president at all ceremonial occasions.

The Presidential Medallion is a permanent possession of the university and is presented to successive presidents at their inaugurations by the chairman of the Board of Trustees. The chain and medallion are fabricated from sterling silver. The university emblem, in relief, is the central design on the medallion. It is surrounded by a border of entwined wires, similar in texture to the chain links, and finished with a square raised edge. The heavy, twisted links of the chain bear four oval plates on each side. The background of the entire piece is oxidized to highlight the relief design and textures. The names of those who have held the office are engraved on the reverse side of the medallion.

The Presidential Medallion was designed and fabricated in 1987 by award-winning New Hampshire metalsmith Jacquelyn Ferrency of Milford.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The academic costume worn today originated in the universities of the Middle Ages, when a warm gown and hood were useful for scholars and clerics in unheated buildings. The distinctive gowns served to set students apart from their fellow citizens, hence the perennial controversy between ‘town and gown.’

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence. These varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes would be black; bachelor’s gowns would have long, pointed sleeves; master’s gowns would have long, closed sleeves with slits for the arms at the elbows; and doctor’s gowns would have very full, bell-shaped sleeves, each with three velvet bands matching the velvet facing of the gown opening.

The length of hoods varies with the degree. The lining of the hood indicates the university by the colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned.

Students who have studied abroad for one or more semesters will be wearing a sash with the colors of the flag of the country where they studied. The sashes are issued to signify the university’s commitment to provide students with opportunities for acquiring international and cross-cultural experience.

The colors for academic fields established by the American Council on Education include:

Agriculture	maize
Arts, Letters and Humanities	white
Business, Commerce and Accounting	light brown
Dentistry	lilac
Economics	copper
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Fine Arts	brown
Forestry	russet
Journalism	crimson
Law	purple
Library Science	lemon
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Oratory	silver gray
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Physical Education	sage green
Public Administration	peacock blue
Science	golden yellow
Social Work	citron
Theology	scarlet
Veterinary Science	gray

(Caps and gowns representing degrees from foreign universities may be quite different from those described. The most obvious difference may be in the cap, which is often a soft, round hat of the style worn by medieval scholars.)

NATALIE STAVAS, MD

Physician and Boston Marathon first responder

Dr. Natalie Stavas is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the University of California, San Diego. She specializes in work with vulnerable children, victims of abuse, and decreasing youth violence.

Described as a healer, educator, and Boston community leader she received the 2012 Change Maker award from The Boston Foundation. On April 15, 2013, Dr. Stavas approached the finish line of her fifth Boston marathon. Just blocks away, she heard explosions and ran towards them. Arriving at the scene she went to work administering CPR, applying tourniquets, and triaging the wounded.

Following this event, President Barack Obama, Katie Couric, and Anderson Cooper honored her for her actions. Improper Bostonian magazine named Dr. Stavas one of “Boston’s Best” and The Boston Globe awarded her with “2013 Bostonian of the Year” – an honor bestowed upon those that shape the biggest story of the year in a remarkable way.

After the bombings, Dr. Stavas increased her efforts in preventing childhood violence. She became a weekly medical contributor for Boston’s Fox 25– discussing issues affecting children and young adults, a mentor for Sole Train– a non–profit guiding inner– city youth on a path towards their full potential through running. In early 2014 she helped partner Prescription for the Outdoors with Boston Medical Center’s pediatric team. This advocacy goes beyond borders– traveling to Haiti throughout the year Dr. Stavas provided medical care to children and helped strengthen their fragile medical infrastructure. A documentary featuring this work as a medical pioneer premiered at the 2014 South by Southwest film festival.

Dr. Stavas is currently a leader in education and research. She serves as the Program Director for Child Protection Pediatrics at the University of California, San Diego. In this role she mentors medical students, residents, and fellows towards a path of fulfillment in medicine. Her research on caring for vulnerable children has won awards and been highlighted on multiple media outlets. Since the COVID–19 pandemic, Dr. Stavas has focused her research on how COVID–19 is affecting children’s health as well as physical wellbeing.

Dr. Stavas has been featured in Runner’s World, The New York Times, LA Times, The Boston Globe, The New Yorker, Time, and People magazine.

STUDENT SPEAKER

CYNTHIA ROWLEY, RN BSN, MSNMaster of Science in Nursing*

Good evening, President LeBlanc, Distinguished Deans, Board of Trustees, staff, faculty, friends, family, and my fellow graduates of Southern New Hampshire University!

I am overjoyed to be here tonight to celebrate our accomplishments! In preparing for this moment, I reviewed YouTube videos of previous Commencement speakers and I admit that I am truly humbled and honored to be at this podium.

I am proud to wear this stole, I admit I am used to wearing something else...my stethoscope. You see, I am a nurse and I have always known that I was supposed to be a nurse, since age 5 when I dressed up as a nurse for Halloween. Thirty-five years ago, I graduated with my Bachelor's in Nursing and started an amazing career. As a nurse, I assume many roles as scientist, researcher, caregiver, policy-writer, hand-holder, mentor, advocate, leader, life-long learner, counselor, educator, and proud graduate of Southern New Hampshire University! Every day, I teach my patients about their health, disease process, medications, and self-care activities to prepare for their discharge home.

Classmates, The Doctors behind me have signed your discharge orders and it is time to release you to the world. There are a few instructions to review before you go. Eat plenty of fruits, vegetables, protein, and whole grains in your diet. Drink 8-10 glasses of water every day. Drink alcohol in moderation and please, designate a driver tonight. Get some much-needed rest! Wash your hands with soap and water, a lot. Vaccinate. Find a hobby or reclaim an old one with your new found time. Get exercise to make your heart race a little and lift weights to strengthen your muscles and bones. Find quiet time to reflect. Volunteer, for you will receive so much more than you give. Travel. Try new foods. Read a book of YOUR choice. Learn something new every day. When your new manager asks you to be part of a committee or team, say 'yes.' Because when you are part of decision-making, you are part of the process and will create your best 'you' in your career.

A wise director once told me, "You will regret not trying." No regrets. Never say 'Never.' It was not that long ago that I said I was never going to get my master's degree. I am happy to recant those words today. Take chances. Be unique. And don't wait because right now is the oldest you've ever been and the youngest you'll ever be again.

For your follow-up appointments, you will need to set up your yearly physical with your new primary care provider. And you have an appointment on Tuesday, November 5, 2024 to have your voice heard when you vote.

Doctors, it looks like they are ready for discharge. Their family and friends are here to pick them up and the world is waiting!

Classmates, take care. Be safe! And Congratulations!

Your SNHU Master's-prepared Clinical Nurse Leader,

Cindy

STUDENT SPEAKER

LAUREN LEIGH POWELL

Bachelor of Arts, Magna Cum Laude

Good morning President LeBlanc, Board of Trustees, Distinguished Deans, faculty and staff, family, friends, and fellow graduates. Here we are at last.

On September 28, 2019, I ran out of my front door, tripped on a white cardboard envelope, and fell. Bruised and bleeding, I staggered to my feet and went to retrieve the offensive thing from the dirt. That is how I received my diploma from SNHU. Like the Grinch's Christmas, it came without ribbons. It came without tags. It came without packages, boxes or bags, or even the SNHU bus from the commercials.

Once I could laugh about being assaulted by my diploma, I shared the news. Still, there was no party because my best friends and I were planning on road-tripping from Maryland to here for commencement, but the universe had other plans.

I came to SNHU in January of 2015, with metaphorically injured hands from another failed attempt to shatter the glass ceiling that had thwarted me for a decade. I was working three jobs and losing hope of anything improving. Dr. Viktor Frankl, a psychologist and Holocaust survivor wrote, "When we are no longer able to change a situation, we are challenged to change ourselves." At that moment, I could not change my career or financial situation, but I could change into someone capable of creating, recognizing, and seizing opportunities for myself. Many of you here today made the same choice to change.

As we all found out during our time at SNHU, it is not easy to juggle college and a life already in progress, but that is what precisely being a global campus student is all about. We learned how to study whenever and wherever we could. Many of us wrote papers on military bases worldwide or hauled laptops out to the sidelines of our children's soccer tournaments. Most importantly, all of us began to embrace the power of hard work, tenacity, sacrifice, and perseverance to remake ourselves into someone a future employer would want on their team.

As we all have had our white envelopes for a while, I feel the time for cliché graduation encouragement has passed. Instead, I urge you to do your best to change the world, even a small attempt. If you think you do not have the power to do that, I urge you to look to the humble dandelion, a weed that is loathed by most. However, when the bees wake up after a long winter, the dandelions are the only flowers hardy enough to withstand the cold and nourish the bees. Plant yourself where it is not easy to thrive and use what you have learned at SNHU to survive despite the odds, and believe me, that someone will notice your efforts and appreciate them.

Congratulations Class of 2020 and 2021. We did it!

STUDENT SPEAKER

JESSE DUANE BAKER

Bachelor of Science, Summa Cum Laude

Good afternoon, President Leblanc, Distinguished Deans, Board of Trustees, Staff, Faculty, Friends, Family, and my fellow graduates for this amazing opportunity. I also want to give a special thank you to my wife and two children who are here in attendance. Without the love and support of that woman I would not be here today.

Now, what can I say other than just WOW! I can't believe that we finally get to enjoy and share this moment together. A lot has changed for many of us since we were supposed to walk across this stage originally. I personally went from serving in military, to now being separated and getting to enjoy some deserved time with my family. For many of us here in attendance, whether you are walking across this stage on time or delayed, dealt with many changes, struggles, unknowns, and unfortunately grief since the start of the pandemic. When I reviewed my speech, I realized the concept of the speech could have never been truer.

My fellow graduates, we stand here today being recognized as individuals that decided we would NEVER GIVE UP! We are moms, dads, sons, daughters, grandsons, granddaughters. We are coaches, mentors, teachers, students, soldiers, sailors, marines, airmen, coastguardsmen and now Space Force Guardians. Many of us here were not able to focus 100% of our attention on going to school daily. We had to clean the house, do the laundry, watch the kids, work late, and even defend our country in foreign locations. On top of all of that we then battled a new challenge in life with the Coronavirus.

Without knowing when or how things would ever become "normal" again and with some of us becoming teachers to our children in our homes, WE NEVER GAVE UP! With that said, DO NOT stop here. Continue to never give up. We know that just because we grab this piece of paper, life continues to move on and will not get any easier. We will forever be one of the most unique classes to ever graduate at SNHU. We showed we are proud of this achievement, this school, and nothing will stop us from enjoying this moment we earned. We sacrificed so much time with our family and friends to get to this point! However, enjoy this moment! Enjoy this achievement! Hug the ones that supported you. CELEBRATE! Today is all about US and the achievements we made by never giving up.

I want to leave you with this quote from someone who unfortunately has passed away, but made me the man I am today. My father, when I graduated basic training told me this and I want to tell you the same, "I'm Proud of You!"

STUDENT SPEAKER

MICHELLE BARNHARTMaster of Business Administration*

During my educational journey I have faced highs & lows; including an ATV accident in 2013 that left me paralyzed and in this chair. Looking back, I consider the years since my accident to be some of the highest highs in my journey. For it truly put a new perspective lens on my view of the world. Perspective I would like to share with you today.

Never. Stop. Learning.

I know you have all heard of the term #FOMO, fear of missing out. But I'd like to start a new hashtag right now. #FOMOOL. Fear Of Missing Out On Learning.

A few months back I noticed myself feverishly reaching out for new assignments, I was signing up for podcasts, looking for new certifications to obtain & volunteering more of my time to local non-profits. Reflecting, I realized as my journey as a student was coming to an end, I was suffering from #FOMOOL. But you do not need to suffer the way I have; Now that you've completed your degree it's time to dive into learning. Stay curious. Sign up for publications, indulge in content specific books & podcasts, follow & network with professionals. Become a S.M.E., a specialist, a go-to.

Have. A. Vision.

I mean truly have a vision. Set reach goals & imagine yourself achieving those goals. How will you feel when you achieve them? What is on your vision board? This moment right here. This is on my vision board.

Define. Yourself.

Too many of us compromise because we have not yet defined ourselves. Define who you are, your morale & ethical values, what you stand for and what you don't.

I recently did an exercise with my 14-year-old son. We had a tough day and in response I asked him to write down his defining words. When he sees himself at his best, or when he envisions how others see him, what words does he want to come to mind? His words were: Strong-willed, family-protecting, loving, helpful, straight-shooter & trustworthy.

I couldn't stop thinking about his choices. I was jealous of his clarity for himself. How did he do that so quickly? I truly admire my son for teaching me what his important defining words are & I challenge all of us to define who we are.

Don't. Let. Obstacles. Define. You.

In order to define yourself, you need to ensure not to let obstacles define you...Do you see this wheelchair? I refused to let my accident, this wheelchair & all the obstacles they've caused to define me. Each obstacle has been a problem to solve, an experience to learn from and a moment to reflect on. As we leave here today, remember, we need to Eat our obstacles for breakfast.

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

COUNSELING PROGRAMS

The mission of the masters in Clinical Mental Health Counseling Program is to empower new generations of counselors by transforming the lives of our students, and through them, the lives of the clients and communities they will serve. To achieve this, we deliver innovative, experiential counselor education, create an inclusive environment, and nurture authentic relationships. We recognize that earning a degree in counseling is more than just acquiring a base of knowledge and theories; it is about developing an identity as a healer. The journey from novice to expert counselor takes many years. The completion of a master's degree is just one step in that journey; yet today, the faculty and staff of the Counseling program at SNHU are proud to present these students who have, by their hard work and perseverance, demonstrated they are ready to take the next step in their journeys, well prepared to have a positive impact on the lives of others, and are grounded in ethical practice that promotes unconditional positive regard and cultural humility towards themselves and their clients.

LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAMS

LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAMS

Southern New Hampshire University's Liberal Arts programs embrace both passion and practicality within our many diverse undergraduate and graduate programs, such as Communication, Creative Writing, Digital Photography, English, Game Art and Development, Graphic Design, and History. Our mission is to guide our students' exploration of the human experience to enrich their journeys as dynamic global citizens. In doing this, we foster the development of practical skills, leading to success in their chosen professional paths. We cultivate a passionate community that practices respect, collaboration, creativity, leadership, and communication. Regardless of discipline area, a Liberal Arts education challenges students to expand their minds while encouraging empathy and self-reflection. Liberal Arts promotes objective examination of new ideas and thoughts, and helps incite creativity and the development of critical problem-solving skills. Liberal arts students sharpen their communication skills for different audiences in a variety of contexts and formats. Students learn to question assumptions in the search for truth. Emboldened by their liberal arts education, our students have a meaningful impact on their local and global communities, as they imagine and bring about a better future.

SOCIAL SCIENCE PROGRAMS

SOCIAL SCIENCES PROGRAMS

Southern New Hampshire University's Social Science programs empower and support students to transform their lives and the lives of those around them through high quality and innovative educational practices that enrich their knowledge and skills in the helping professions. Students apply their knowledge of human behavior through our programs in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, Human Services, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. Our programs provide students with insights at the individual, societal, and global levels in order to create a richer understanding of multiple perspectives and cultures. Students also hone their skills in analysis, critical thinking, problem-solving, communication, ethical reasoning, and professionalism through authentic assessments as well as experiential learning and internship opportunities. The Social Sciences department seeks to prepare students to achieve their short and longterm goals and make a positive, lasting impact within their communities in a variety of career paths and contexts.

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING & MATHEMATICS (STEM) PROGRAMS

SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY, ENGINEERING & MATHEMATICS (STEM) PROGRAMS

Southern New Hampshire University's STEM Department mission is to provide flexible, learner focused, industry driven, affordable, and accessible educational opportunities with unparalleled support for learners who otherwise would not have the opportunity to pursue a STEM career. The STEM Department encompasses many robust and challenging programs that enable learners to build confidence and skills, to grow as independent, critical thinkers and problem solvers, and ultimately to succeed in their goals. Our programs engage students' diverse learning styles through the use of projects, technology, industry tools, experiential learning, and environments that both adhere to our rigorous learning outcomes and are authentic to the relevant field of professional practice. We take great pride in never giving up on any student who is putting forth the effort to achieve his or her academic goals, and in providing our students with a transformative educational experience.
